

This is a notification, to all Wildcat Aquatics' parents and swimmers, of the recent coaching changes and information concerning the team trip to St. Louis.

Coaching Changes:

Coach Jared Hisle has resigned from the Wildcat Aquatics- Head Coach / Team Coordinator position to further his career in a fortunate business opportunity. Jared's new job will begin Monday May 16th, making the Wildcat Derby his last couple of days with the team. Coach Clifton Cox will be stepping into Jared's position, and David Little will be taking over Clifton's current position as Age-Group Head Coach / New Membership Coordinator. Coach John Brucato will remain the Senior Head Coach, while Leigh Dalton, Eddie Clement, and Jen Parli will remain as our assistants. An additional assistant coach will be hired to take over David's current assistant coaching job. We will release more details about the new coach as soon as it's finalized.

Team Trip:

The team trip to St. Louis has been changed to an individual meet, rather than a team trip. With a low percentage of the team signed-up, the coaching staff decided to cancel the buses and team travel. Although the buses have been canceled, the meet will remain on the schedule. If you are signed up and can't go because of traveling conflicts, please notify a coach as soon as possible.

*An Ultimate Technique Clinic, sponsored by USA-Swimming and ran by current Olympic Swimmers, will be added to the Fall schedule to take the place of the cancellation of the team trip. We feel we will get a higher percentage of WA swimmers involved with the clinic which in return will better serve our program. We will supply more details about the clinic as soon as we get it finalized and scheduled.

Thanks for the support!!!

Also, we would like to thank the parents who are going the extra mile to help and support the coaching staff during this recent transition of coaches and developments in the team trip. We are excited about the amount of parents reaching out to better our team!!!

GO CATS!!!

Cordially,
The Coaching staff